2023 Leading Well Program for Emerging Leaders Accepting Applications

The Australian Business Events Association (ABEA) has announced it is accepting applications for the 2023 Leading Well Program for Emerging Leaders, taking place in Sydney and Melbourne during October and November. The program aims to empower participants with the essential skills and knowledge required for success in their roles and to make significant contributions to their respective organisations, and the industry.

ABEA's 2022 Leading Well program saw 30 participants excel in their leadership development, with the Australian Business Events Association (ABEA) recognising the pivotal role of emerging leaders as a critical driving force for the industry.

Tourism Australia's Executive General Manager, Commercial & Business Events Australia, Robin Mack said: "Business Events Australia is proud to partner with ABEA and offer 22 Emerging Leaders the chance to build their leadership skills through the 2023 Scholarship Program.

"It's so important to support the ongoing development of our industry, to ensure Australia remains at the forefront in delivering high calibre business events and continues to be competitive as a business events destination internationally."

The 2023 program is open to two cohorts of 15 participants, with a program designed to provide emerging leaders with an immersive and comprehensive learning experience. It includes two full-day face-to-face group sessions and individual one-on-one coaching, spearheaded by Leading Well Executive Coach, Dan Londero.

The program will guide and prepare Emerging Leaders for the transition into exceptional leadership, honing skills such as the management of mindsets and the crucial aspect of wellbeing in today's professional landscape. Exploring the emerging field of systemic leadership, which places organisational system wellbeing at the forefront, participants will gain insights into reading human systems and enhancing connections through constructive feedback-based conversations.

"The 2023 Leading Well Program is made possible through the generous support of Business Events Australia and Momentus Technologies, who have provided scholarships to ensure the program's affordability and accessibility, supporting the growth of the industry and the individuals poised to drive it forward," said Melissa Brown, CEO of ABEA.

We invite employers to consider this program for Emerging Leaders. For a full Prospectus and to apply, contact memberservices@abea.org.au.
